

Overview:

Audio and web conferencing is the easiest, most cost-effective, and reliable way to communicate with several people in several locations at the same time.

Global Meet Me – enables you to hold an audio conference from any fixed or mobile phone, plus “virtual meetings” of up to 40 participants can be held in separate locations.

Live Meeting and Webex – offers secure web conferencing with the ability to communicate and share documents, make presentations, and demonstrate products and services with up to 20 participants.

Target Market

- Businesses that want to reduce the costs associated with travelling to face-to-face meetings
- Businesses that need to communicate and share documents, make presentations and demonstrate products and services.

Features

- Instant, subscription free services
- Audio conferencing from any fixed or mobile phone
- Free iPhone and BlackBerry app
- Total control – roll-call at the outset of a meeting, the ability to invite additional attendees once conference is underway, and many more options.

Business Benefits

- Increases productivity whilst reducing costs
- Makes interactive meetings easy and possible with the ability to share slides, spreadsheets, or other applications just as you would at a face-to-face meeting
- Simple to implement, seamless to integrate, with no requirement for additional infrastructure
- Offers a variety of security levels, including user-passwords, encrypted meeting, and content expiration date options – depending on service
- Audio and Web conferencing solutions can be combined to give the ultimate conference experience.
