Important

It is possible to incur call charges on the Internet by using an incorrect dial-up number. There are also certain web sites outside of Manx Telecom's control that can drop your connection and re-connect using a premium rate number, a non-geographic or an international dial up number. You may or may not be warned before this happens.

Manx Telecom strongly recommends you install an Internet Security Application that can detect dial up hijack.

We would also recommend using programs that prevent the installation of spyware and adware software on your computer. In addition Premium Rate Call Barring and International Call Barring options are available, contact Manx Telecom on 624624 for more details. Further information is available at <http://www.manxtelecom.com/support>
