3. Your Pay As You Go account

- 3.1 To use our Pay As You Go Mobile Service you must credit your Pay As You Go Account. You can do this by purchasing Pay As You Go Vouchers, calling 154, Online Top-Up, Auto Top-Up or Text 2 Top-Up. When your account is in credit you can make calls, send SMS text messages and access data services. We will provide a SIM Card suitable for the Service, providing access to the mobile network including GPRS, EDGE, 3G, HSDPA and 4G Services, subject to the suitability of the Customer's equipment and tariff plan to receive such Services. Access to mobile data services is provided by default at commencement of the service. This means that when the relevant settings are placed in your mobile handset, full access to the Internet is possible. All vouchers have an expiry date and must be used before that date. Failure to do so will result in an invalid voucher and the credit will be lost. MT or its Agents will not refund monies for expired vouchers.
- 3.2 Pay As You Go credit is valid for 90 days after which any unused credit will expire and will no longer be available for use.
- 3.3. Charges for Mobile Service shall be calculated by reference to MT's Price List that applies from time to time. Call charges shall be calculated by reference to the details of the calls recorded by or on behalf of MT. The duration of the call shall commence when the call is answered or when a recorded service is accessed. Data charges shall be calculated by reference to the details of all data transmitted or received by the Customer and will include any resent data, recorded by MT. The amount of data will include such data that is added to control the flow of data across the Mobile Service network. MT measure and charge per byte from a defined point within their GPRS network, bytes measured at this point will be deemed the definitive amount of data that a customer will be charged. Certain conditions may mean the data measured on the customer's handset may vary from that charged, these conditions include, but are not limited to, the type of handset used, retries between the customer's handset and the MT GPRS network and retries between the GPRS network and the global Internet.
- 3.4 As you make calls, use data or send text messages inclusive allowances will be decremented where applicable or charges incurred and they will be deducted from amounts credited to your Pay As You Go Account. Each of these chargeable events will move your Account expiry date forward 180 days. When all credit has been used up or expired you will no longer be able to use the Pay As You Go service to make outgoing calls, send messages or use data services, e.g. internet, until you top-up your Pay As You Go Account. You will be able to receive incoming calls and messages where no termination charges apply for a period of 180 days from the date of your last chargeable event. Unless otherwise stated by us incoming calls whilst away from the Isle of Man are not allowed when you have no credit.

You hereby irrevocably authorise us to debit all relevant charges from your Pay As You Go Account as incurred.
